

Volume 6: The Hidden Alliance

Chapter 1: Silence Recruitment

The sun was slowly rising over the yard of the Memorial School. A light wind blows on the leaves of the big tree in the center of the building A. The quiet of the morning hid an invisible tension, like a silence just before a storm. In a building room B, the Squade J had come together. Johary was standing, backed by the wall, arms crossed. Around him, his nearest allies: Ferida, Mialy, delicious, Floriane, Andy Brayan, Fortunio, Rayan, Fredo, Rodric, Saina, Lucia, Jessica, Cristiano ... They formed a more welded group than ever, Everyone with his personality, everyone will fight the organization. - "We have to do something. Andy Brayan said, the serious look. "JT observes us. We never see it, but we feel everywhere. "And if we formed an alliance? Fortuné proposed, who turned in circles with a compass in his hands. "We need more eyes, more ears ..." - "I have an idea," Johary said calmly. "The 4EC. A silence traveled the room. Mialy frowned. - "Do you want to recruit other students? - "Not all. Just those who can help us ... "This is how the project C, a risky plan, but essential: recruit a parallel team outside the usual memory circle. One of the infiltrated agents, there, who secretly assisted at the meeting from the ajarred door, approved a discreet nod. Nobody knew who he was really - and it was better so. A few days later, in the yard, Johary watched 4EC. He had appealed to Aaron, a student renowned for his logic and leadership. - "If you want my help," Aaron said, "You take the whole team. We bump together or nothing. - "Market concluded. Johary replied, reaching out. Behind Aaron, Titan joked with Thomson, while Riccardo was already writing notes in a notebook. Lafatara, he, ate cookies while watching Jessica, and Fandresena watched the courtyard without a word. In girls, Kaissy, Jenny, Leydisia, Angelica and Lucia # 2 quickly joined the team. The new covenant was sealed. The same evening, while all students came home, JT, the mysterious right arm of King T, watched the surveillance cameras in a dark room. "They are organizing ..." he murmured in a cold voice. He patted slowly on a keyboard. A silent alarm turned on: threat level: moderate. Activation of the next phase.

Chapter 2: Two teams, a mission

The class of the 5th century, was empty this Saturday afternoon. This is where Johary had made an appointment with the Squad J and the new allies of the 4EC. The two groups faced as in a duel. On the one hand, Johary's team, with his loyal members, on the other, the 4EC conducted by Aaron. - "Good, before we talk about strategy, we must see if you are up to," Andy Brayan launched with a smile of challenge. "No problem," Aaron replied. "Titan, Thomson, in place. The workout began with a series of tests: logic, observation, endurance, teamwork. Leydisia beat fortunate at a memory game. Riccardo decoded a coded message faster than Rayan and Claudi. Fandresena found a micro hidden in the wall, that even Lucia had not noticed. - "Awesome ..."

Johary murmured, while Saina was already bigoted with Thomson about a failed exercise. Despite the outstanding debut, mutual respect settled. Lucia (the first) exchanged complicit glances with Lucia No. 2. Mialy and Kaissy were discussing Strategy, while Jessica and Jenny tested the communication system that Cristiano Bricole. But suddenly, one of the screens connected to their network turned on without reason. A blurred image, hidden. A robotic voice. > "The organization observes you. Your movements are calculated. The test is approaching. You are wrong to believe that you are ready. Then the screen went out. Graved silence invades the room. - "Jt," murmured Florian. "It's him. "It's just a warning," Johary replied, turning to his group. "We continue. We do not go back. In the shadow, watched everything behind the door, connected to their network. He scribbled a word in his notebook:> "Visible Progress. Link between 4EC and Johary: Positive. To monitor. Act discreetly."

Chapter 3: A fault in the system

The rain fell slowly on the roofs of the school this Sunday morning. Inside, the two groups had settled in their classroom, their new HQ. Fredo ate in a hiding place a part of pizza, while Ny Antsa installed cards on the wall. Everything seemed calm, but Aaron stared at a screen. "There is a hidden passage in the archive room," he said suddenly. Everyone turned to him. - "I crossed old plans from the school in the Mr Arnel bag. There is a corridor that does not exist on the new plans. - "A secret passage? Titan was surprised. "Too stylish. - "When is there? Kaissy asked. - "Tonight. Johary replied. "No question of waiting.

21:47 - Archives Room

The team, divided into small groups, had sneaked in the school. Ferida, Jenny, Leydisia and Riccardo watched near the door. Johary, Aaron, Lucia No. 2, Angelica, Rodric and Rayan entered the room. Lafata, discreet despite his size, pressed a brick, revealing a mechanism. A pan of the wall opened softly. "It's like in the movies," Riccardo whispered. They advanced slowly. The corridor smelled of old paper and dust. Suddenly, a green light appeared on the wall. - "Wait ..."

Chuchota Lucia. "This symbol ... I saw it in the JT book. - "Did you search his business? Mialy asked, frowning. - "No. I saw it through a hidden camera. The symbol represented a "t" surrounded by an eye. The symbol of the organization. Suddenly, a silent alarm snap off. A red light flashed in the hallway. - "It's a trap, get out! Fandresa shouted. All rushed out of the passage. Scarcely out, the door closed violently behind them. They were swelling, shocked. "Jt knew that we would come ..." Murmured Floriane. "We have just confirmed that we are permanently monitored," Rayan added. Outside, in the shadow of the garden, a man in dark blue suit looked at them. Jt. He says nothing, but smiles. > "Well played, Johary. You do exactly what I want. »

Chapter 4: The walls have ears

the next morning, the atmosphere in the 4eC class was heavy. Although nothing would be visible on their faces, all the members of the Alliance knew what had happened the day before. The infiltration attempt had failed. Worse still: they now knew that JT watched them. Aaron scribbled on a sheet during the French course with Ms. Vero. Lucia No. 2, next to Jenny, did him discreetly a word. > "Do you think we were filmed? Jenny hocked his head discreetly. - "I think we are listened to too ... everywhere. At recreation, they gathered near the old mango tree. It was one of their only safe places, at least they hoped. "We have to change the way we operate," said Leydisia. - "How do you? Titan asked while eating a piece of banana. - "We talk too much. JT anticipates everything. We must act without warning, even between us. Fandresena, silent as usual, pointed a mechanical bird hanging on the wall of building C. - "Drone spy," he murmured. "That's how he listens to us. "- "You have to neutralize them," said Riccardo. "No," replied Kaison. "If they know that they are spotted, they will go to a higher level. "- So ... we have to lie," Jenny added, his eyes brilliant. Johary understood immediately. - "Perfect. We will make them believe that we abandon the investigation. A few hours later - Office of the main

Y, always disguised by watching strict, watched by far. He had seen the students come out of the secret room. He knew he could not protect them from far away. > "Johary becomes more dangerous for the organization ... but more brave too," he thought. JT, on his side, set the screen of a computer. - "They decrease? He wondered. "Or it's a diversion ..." He smiles. - "In both cases, they play in my hand. »

Chapter 5: The Invisible Trap

The following day was strangely calm. No incidents, no alert. As if memorial had become a normal school. But the Squade J and their 4EC allies knew that this calm was ... too perfect. During the EPST course with Mr Arnel, Johary, Fortuné, Ferida, Saina and Andy Brayan took advantage of the exercises of flexion to speak discreetly. - "JT does not react anymore. Maybe he thinks we have abandoned, "Johary Chuchota. - "Perfect. We start phase 2? Saina asked, keeping an eye on other students. - "Yes, tonight. Mission: Search the archive hall. 20h - Archives Room, Armed Administrative Building of Torches and Talkies-Talkies Dicked by Fortuné, the group sneaked in the dark corridors. Fandresena Guida The Road, Rodric and Rayan covered the back. - "It's closed," said Leydisia by analyzing the metal door. "Let me do," said Riccardo, coming out a small hook. A few seconds later: click. The door opened. Inside, dozens of dusty folders, closed boxes and an old computer. - "Let's seek everything about the organization or King T," Johary ordered. But while they were spreading the research, a silent alarm was activated ... a few stories higher - Superieur JT observed the screens. He crossed his arms, calm. - "I had you ... well played back. Now, I have your faces, your names, your movements. He pressed a red button. - "Shadow team, block all outings. Nobody goes out. In the Archives Room - "Johary! The doors close! Thomson shouted. A sizzling in the walkies talkies. It was there, from the teachers' room. - "Leave the room! It's a trap! But it was too late. Grids fell. Red lights lit up. The group was now trapped in the archive hall, caught in the net of the right arm of King T. and it was only the beginning ...

Chapter 6: Locked but not defeated

The red lights blinked and the metal grids vibrated heavily. The heavy silence was broken only by panting breathing and panicked murmurs. - "Calm away! Johary launched, trying to regain control. "We can not afford to panic now. Ferida, can you disable this system? Ferida went out his tiny phone by fortunate and immediately began to hack the electronic lock. His fingers trembled but he kept his cool. - "It's going to take time ... It's a very sophisticated system. JT does not laugh. Rayan looked around, looking for clues. Next to him, Fandresen scanned the walls, looking for a weakness in the structure. Meanwhile, there, outside, discreetly communicated with the main one. "They are trapped, but they will hold," he says. "I'm trying to divert JT's attention. At the same time, in a secret room JT watched over his screens. He smiles coldly. - "Do you think you can escape? He murmured. "It's just the beginning of what I'm holding you back. He contacted one of his mysterious allies, Professor Mr. Pytha. - "Mr. Pytha, prepare surprise exams. Johary must be pushed into his entrenchments. In the Lucia Archives Room, Jessica and Kaisey began to organize a plan. "Johary, if we do not go out from here before tomorrow, we died," Jessica murmured. "No question," Johary replied, his voice firm. "We will hold. And we will show to King T that his right arm, JT, will never bend us. The students tugged down, while outside, in the shadows, the most dangerous part of the game had just started ...

Chapter 7: The faults of silence

The darkness reigned in the room where Johary and the squad I were locked up. Time seemed to have stopped, but the emergency grew. "We must keep his head cold," said Aaron, the head of the 4th century, who had come to reinforce with his group. "Every second counts. Thomson tried to relax the atmosphere with a joke, but the laughter remained rare. Titan, his faithful assistant, distributed the water rations they had managed to keep. In the shadow of the school outside, JT progressed with implacable precision. His dark blue suit blended in the night as he slid between the buildings, avoiding the cameras. "No one should know that I'm here," he thought in silence. But he did not know that a vigilant eye, that of Y, followed each of his steps. Inside Mialy, delegate of the class, took notes on everything that was happening. "It's absolutely necessary to find a fault in their plan," she said in Johary. Suddenly, Lucia found a small pass behind an old wardrobe. - "Look at it! The passage was narrow, but seemed to lead to a secondary output. "It's our chance," Jossa was exclaimed. But time is pressing in the hall, not resonated. JT was closer than they thought. - "Get ready," Johary murmured. The battle for freedom was going to begin, and every choice could be fatal.

Chapter 8: The night test

The tension was palpable. In the narrow passage discovered by Lucia, the Squad J and the 4th century rushed, hoping to escape the vigilance of JT. The shadow of the right arm JT, relentless and silent, felt the presence of his opponents escape under his feet. "They should not run away," he murmured, ready to stop Johary to discover more. With disconcerting speed, he took out a small electronic device. - "A scrambler," thought there at a distance. The race against shows the passage narrowed, each obliged to move in an Indian file. Jessica, always close to Lafara, felt his heart beat strong. "Stay focused," she says. A false alert? Suddenly, a metal noise echoed behind them. Fredo turned abruptly, but it was only a door slammed off. "Just the wind," he says, trying to reassure everyone. The revelation of Y whereas they approached an outing, it contacted Johary by radio. - "JT has deployed a jammer. If you lose the contact, follow the green light, it's a secure path. The choice of green light is weakly glistening, guiding the team towards freedom ... but at what price?

Chapter 9: The invisible trap

The green light danced gently on the dark walls of the hallway while the squad J and the 4th centrally advanced. Johary felt every step heavier than the previous one. A palpable tension - "We must stay grouped," Aaron murmured, the leader of the group, scanning darkness. Titan, at his side, tried to relax the atmosphere with a joke, but no one went attention. The trap closes suddenly, a metal rattling sounds. Metal bars caught walls, blocking the entrance and exit. - "It's a trap! Fandresa exclaimed, trying to push the bars, but they were solid. In the shadows at the same time, in a secret piece, JT observed the scene on several screens. "They fall into the panel," he whispered, a cold smile on his face. "No one should help them. The trick of Y but y, hidden in the shadow, activated a small device on his watch. "Do not worry," I'm here, "he whispered in Johary's microphone. Flashing red light appeared, reporting another way, hidden and difficult to reach. The difficult choice The group had to decide now if they were trying to force the bars or follow the red light, uncertain of what was waiting for them behind.

Chapter 10: The ultimate test

The group, guided by Johary and Y, took the risk of following red light. Each step resonated in this narrow passage, while the heavy silence amplified their tension. An unexpected output at the end of the tunnel, a door opened slowly on a small control room. Screens showed several areas of the school, including the room where they were trapped. "It's here that JT controls everything," Johary murmured. "We have a chance to thwart his plans. The face-to-face but as they were about to act, an icy voice echoed behind them. - "You are closer than I thought," said JT appearing in the shadows, his dark blue suit perfectly adjusted. "But that's not enough. The battle of mind a Mental duel pledged between Johary and JT, everyone tempting to take the advantage. Meanwhile, discreetly sent messages to the main and allied teachers to intervene. The sudden unexpected help, the door of the control room opened abruptly. The main, Mr Theodore, Mrs Vero and other professors made their entrance. "You will not win, JT," firmly declared the main one. A fight that continues despite their presence, JT disappeared in a cloud of smoke, leaving behind a greater threat. "It's just the beginning," Johary prevailed. "The organization is more powerful than ever. But we too. To follow ...
